PROSPECTS FOR FORD GETTING SHOALS BOOM Harding Insists On Arbitration Of Mine Strike Daugherty Takes Hand In The Rail Walkout

FINAL ULTIMATUM IS DELIVERED TODAY TO 2 WARRING FACTIONS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Brief, Tense Session Held Between Miners and The Operators

DECLARES THE DISPUTE
MUST BE SUBMITTED

Month's Truce Would Be Tried Under Plan of The President

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Harding delivered the government's final ultimatum to the warring coal miners and operators today.

At a brief, tense session at the white house, the President flatly informed them that coal mining activities must be resumed at once and that they must submit the disputes which they are apparently unable to iron out to the arbitration of a commission appointed by the government.
The clear intimation was conveyed by the President that failure to do this would result in the government making good on its threat of last week to seize the mines and operate them in the public's interest.

This was made even more emphatic by the assertions of cabinet officers, who described the President's talk as virtually tantamount to saying—"arbitration or seizure."

The effect of the President's scheme, if agreed to by both sides,
would be to establish a month's truce
in the strike, or until August 10, during which arbitration would be given a thorough trial. At the end of that time if an agreement were not reached, new steps would be considered.

The President proposed that the arbitration commission be composed of eleven men—three from the miners, three from the operators and five to be named by the President himself.

The commission would be named immediately to begin its work. The President also suggested that if the arbitration he proposed was not successful, that the present wage scale be continued in force and that production
be continued until April 1, 1923.

This was regarded as a significant victory for the miners.

AGE-HERALD EDITOR DIES SUDDENLY

(By International News Service.)
BIRMINGHAM, July 10.—Edward W. Barrett, editor and chief owner of The Birmingham Age-Herald, died suddenly of heart failure last night
about 10:45 o'clock, while in swimming with a party of friends at the Roebuck Springs country club.

Mr. Barrett was 56 years old, a native of Athens, Ga., and a graduate of Washington and Lee University.
Practically all of his business life had been spent in newspaper work. For nine years before coming to Birmingham he was the Washington correspondent of The Atlanta Constitution,
during the time that the late Henry W. Grady was editor of that paper.
Coming to Birmingham in 1897,
Mr. Barrett, had lived until August 1, would have rounded out a quarter century as editor and principal owner of The Age-Herald.

He was a member of the principal social clubs and a leader in civic work in Birmingham.

The interment will be tomorrow afternoon at Elmwood cemetery, the exact hour not yet having been announced.

PRIVATE SECRETARY OF GOVERNOR KILBY AND COLONEL MOON PROBING SITUATION

Will Make Report To Chief Executive On Advisability
Of Troops

PETITION TO GOVERNOR
DENIES ANY DISORDERS

Seven Local Officials Urge State
To Decline To Send Soldiers

With a view to determining whether "troops are needed here or not,"
Col. Hartley Moon, adjutant general of Alabama, and W. A. Darden, private secretary to Gov. Thomas E.
Kilby, are in the Twin Cities to make an investigation of the strike situation for the chief executive.

Neither of the visitors today would indicate what their impressions of the situation here are. Secretary Darden declared he and Col. Moon will confer with officials of the railroad, officials of the shop crafts, law officers, and "do some observing of their own."

He stated so far they had heard
"only one side," but did not state which "side" it was.

"We will collect all the data we can get on the situation and report direct to Governor Kilby," Mr. Darden declared. "It is not likely that we will have anything whatever to make public here. We want to hear all sides and will make observations of our own, after which we will report to Governor Kilby on the advisability of sending troops here."

No Law Violations.
Telegrams sent by Solicitor D. C.
Almon and Sheriff May to Governor Kilby stated no disorders have occurred here and the law has not been violated. The Daily was advised today by its Montgomery Bureau.

"Both officials said no reports of any disturbances had been received and that their personal investigations convinced them that the state laws
were not being violated," the officials were quoted as saying.

More than half a dozen state law enforcement officers arrived here Saturday afternoon under the direction of Chief State Law Enforcement Officer Phillips. It is understood they will make a direct report on the situation to Governor Kilby.

Petition Sent.
Saturday night a petition, signed by seven city and county officials was mailed to Governor Kilby, informing him there was no disorder here and urging him not to send troops to the Twin Cities.

The petition was signed by:
Sheriff J. V. May; Mayor E. C.
Payne of Albany; Mayor James A.
Nelson of Decatur; L. P. Troup, judge of probate; J. L. Draper, clerk of the circuit court; C. M. Riggs, chief of police of Decatur; J. N. Hendrix, chief of police of Albany.

The petition follows:
Gov. Thomas E. Kilby, Montgomery.
Dear Sir:

We the undersigned officials of the county of Morgan, City of Decatur and City of Albany, having been informed through the press and otherwise, that efforts are being brought to bear upon you to send soldiers to this community, earnestly insist that you not take this action, as the community is as peaceful as it ever has been in the history of the county and cities.

"There is no violence reported, and the only cases we have heard of are some watchmen being convicted of carrying concealed pistols.

"Your sending militia into this

REV. WILLOUGHBY PREACHED SUNDAY IN TWO CHURCHES

Rev. J. W. Willoughby, a son of the late Rev. J. W. C. Willoughby, founder of Willoughby Church, South, Albany, preached two sermons
in the Twin Cities yesterday to highly appreciative audiences. Because of the universal affection in which his father was held while he lived and served here, his son's words were listened to with unusual interest.
The distinguished visitor is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Lamar Penny and in a few days will leave for his new work, which is in far off Persia,
where he has been sent as a missionary by the Presbyterian Church.
Yesterday morning Rev. Willoughby spoke at the Westminster Church and last night he preached from the pulpit of the Willoughby Presbyterian Church.

Dr. L. F. Goodwin, pastor of the Willoughby Church, presented Rev.
Willoughby to his congregation in a few gracious words, and expressed in behalf of the congregation the pleasure felt at the privilege of hearing a son of the late Dr. Willoughby preach the Gospel. The text chosen by the minister was "If the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?" The point was made that "just goodness did not amount to anything, and that moral stauary was no better than statues made out of stone, that "transmitted goodness" was the only kind that amounted to anything. Last night Rev. Willoughby spoke in a most acceptable manner to the congregation of Willoughby Church,
which was established many years ago by his father and was at first known as "Willoughby Chapel."

The case of Oakley Kennemer, charged with attacking a girl
delegate to the Epworth League convention in Athens several weeks ago, has been set for hear-

this afternoon by Solicitor D. C.
Almon on his return from Athens. Judge Brickell will preside.

Christ's Victorious Kingdom The Subject of Rev. Stucky Sunday

"Christ's Victorious Kingdom" was the subject of Rev. R. F. Stucky's sermon last night when he spoke to a large congregation, using the Golden Text of the International Sunday school lesson for the day.

"Christ's kingdom was the opposite kind to the ones spoken of in Daniel's prophecy. They all fell, but Christ's will stand forever," said the speaker. "The earthly kingdom's fell because they were autocratic, built on selfishness and on death. Christ's kingdom will stand, as it is built on democracy, unselfishness, and on His life," continued the speaker by way of contrasting Christ's and the worldly kingdoms.

The preacher referred to the present industrial struggle. "I prophesy," he declared, "a great victory for democracy in the present nation-wide struggle. We are contending for the same kind of a thing we fought for in the World War. The present one is a fight for industrial freedom, as chairman of the press committee of the federated crafts:

With every place taken from stage

sented an animated scene, when the chairman called the striking railroad workers to order at 9 o'clock this morning. The first exercise was a solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," by Cy Graham, followed with a moving prayer by the chaplain.

T. H. Gentry made an announcement in behalf of the Funeral Benefit Association, which was loudly cheered. Reports of the several committees:

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN
ON DUTY IN ILLINOIS

Soldiers Are Mobilized In Other States, Ready To Be Called

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—
"Law and order must be preserved. Property and life protected, transportation of the mails must not be interfered with and interstate commerce must not be interrupted."

This was announced today by Attorney General Daugherty as the policy of the United States government toward the strike of 400,000 railroad shopmen, which has resulted in some disorders in some parts of the country.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 10.—A crucial stage in the railroad strike was reached today, the tenth since the shopmen's nation-wide walk-out.
Shop and roundhouse whistles
shrieked the final notes of the railroads' ultimatum, cancelling seniority and pension rights of the strikers who refused to return to the shops today.

National guardsmen were on duty in Illinois and were under arms in several other States, while United States marshals were in charge of law enforcement machinery at various other points. At other centers the roads relied on federal injunctions and local authorities for protection of non-union men and railroad property.

At Washington, Attorney General
Daugherty, on his return to the capital after a week's absence in Ohio, immediately took up consideration of the railroad strike with Alfred P.
Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives.

Day Is Crucial.

(By International News Service.)

CHICAGO, July 10.—The strike of railway shopmen, which began ten days ago, was expected to reach a crisis today when twelve railroads planned to reopen their shops with non-union employees.

National guard troops in six states were mobilized, ready for duty if needed. Troops were on guard in two states and scores of deputy United States marshals were alert to prevent disorders.

The time limit set by the railroads for striking employees to return to work, without loss of seniority, expired today.

Early reports indicated that few of the strikers were returning to their jobs.

Troops were on duty at Clinton, Ill.,
and at Parsons, Kan.

Snipers were reported to have fired from ambush on soldiers during sen-tinal duty at Clinton. No one was wounded, however. The situation was described as peaceful this morning by Sheriff Persons.

The most critical situation in the Chicago district existed at Aurora, Ill., where sweeping authority to prevent interference by strikers at the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy shops
has been given.

Reports that 1,500 union men planned to prevent the reopening of the Quincy shops led to fears of violence.

SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS

Oklahoma Solon Hesitates Only
On 100 Year Lease
Provision

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The prospects of Henry Ford getting ultimate control of the government nitrate and water power project at Muske Shoals, Ala., were booming
today.

The action of Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, in sponsoring Ford's offer in the Senate, was looked upon today as indicating that Middle Western Republicans would join with Southern Democrats in supporting the latest Ford offer.

Ladd broke a long silence on the offer to declare today that he was

"I believe Ford, in his revised offer, has met all objections previously made to it with the single exception of the 100-year lease," said Ladd.
"I think I can say I am favorable to it in its present form."

In support of Ladd's position, Senator Harold, Republican, of Oklahoma, declared he would probably vote for the Ford offer if the Detroit manufacturer would reduce his 100-year lease period to 50 years.
Harold said he thought the new Ford contract contained a proper fertilizer guarantee, but that he was in favor of reducing the lease to 50 years.

With both Ladd and Harold, members of the agriculture committee, it was indicated today that Ford might obtain a majority vote of recommendation from the committee.

The Southern Democrats, it was learned, will vote solidly for Ford.
With this in mind, the votes of Ladd and Harold probably will hold the balance. The committee will meet Thursday night, when the various offers, including Ford's, will be discussed finally. A vote may be taken at the same time.

Representatives of each rival bidder will be present.

COURT DISMISSES COMMISSIONERS

(By International News Service.)
BIRMINGHAM, July 10.—Upon motion of Assistant State Solicitor
John P. McCoy, the cases against President D. E. McLendon, of the city commission, and Commissioners
W. B. Cloe and W. E. Dickson, charged with violation of the corrupt practices act, was dismissed when the cases came to trial here today before Judge H. P. Hefflin.

The commissioners were charged with having made pre-election promises in violation of a state law.

CHILD DIES.

Pauline, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kelsae, died on Sunday morning at 1 o'clock at the hospital. She was a most lovable little girl, bright and popular, and will be sadly missed. Funeral and interment yesterday afternoon at Lindsey Cemetery at Danville.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.*HARDING AND MUSCLE SHOALS.

If the news sent out from Washington by the correspondent of the New York World relative to President Harding's position on the Muscle Shoals matter is correct, it surely does no credit to his leadership of his statesmanship. The correspondent says the president is opposed to the Ford offer and has called upon the Republicans to defeat it by a "party vote." His lack of leadership should be evident from the fact that the majority of the congressmen from the western agricultural states favor the Ford offer and are demanding its acceptance. What the president will do, if he is correctly quoted, will be to further accentuate the split between himself and the agricultural congressmen. And his lack of statesmanship should be obvious from his reported desire to make a partisan issue of what can not be considered as partisan under any logical construction of the matter.

President Harding is an affable, courteous gentleman, a good companion and a sincere man but he seems entirely out of touch with the people. He has the unfortunate habit of getting on the wrong side of almost every question that comes up before him. He has championed a good many things the people did not want and he has opposed an equal number of things the people did desire. It is no wonder then that the voters of such Republican states as Pennsylvania, Iowa and North Dakota have protested against the manner in which he has conducted and is conducting his office.—Commercial Appeal.

WHY THE FARM BLOC IS FEARED.

In his attitude toward the Ford proposal for Muscle Shoals Senator Norris, unlike those representatives and senators who are to be re-nominated in the primaries during the next few weeks, and re-elected this fall, has not been listening with one ear to the subject under discussion and with the other to the things their folks back home are saying of them. The senator doesn't have to be re-elected this fall and he is like Secretary Weeks, not caring what the public thinks.

There is probably not a representative in congress, and certainly not a senator whose term expires March 4, next, who has not at least one person within his own party, to say nothing of certain opposition outside of his party, who covets his job, and the honors and emoluments that accompany it, especially the emoluments, and they know and appreciate the power of Ford before the people. Popularity is essential to an elective office, and to be popular the politician must keep close to the people.

Again it should be remembered, and is no doubt kept well in mind by senators as well as representatives seeking re-election, that during the present congress a new kind of sectionalized popularity has appeared. There has been a revolt in the south and the middle west against what has been termed the industrial domination of New England and the middle Atlantic states. The opinion has gained current that those sections legislate for the manufacturers and exporters to the detriment of the agricultural interests. The result has been as is known, the formation of the farm bloc. While it is not at present taking the form of a new political party, being composed of a combination of democrats with republicans, and have succeeded in many instances, in unseating republican incumbents who have not been true to the agricultural interests.

Where democrats in the west are weak in numbers they are strong for the farm bloc movement; for they see in it a method of wearing away by attrition the present republican majority, which has adopted the do-nothing policy, failing to carry out republican pledges to the people.

The farm bloc threatens to play an important part in the next presidential election, composed as it is of the agricultural interests of the south and west. As stated the farm bloc is a revolt against what has been termed the industrial domination of New England and the middle Atlantic states, and its formation is regarded by political observers as marking the approaching collapse of what has been termed the industrial bloc, although it functioned under another name. The difference between the farm bloc and the industrial bloc that has so long wielded a great influence in congress in the interests of certain industries, is that the former works in the open, not under cover.

It is gratifying to know that as the center of population shifts westward legislative control is slipping away from east. There was a time when the east dictated the nomination of both candidates for the presidency, and dominated the politics in this country; but in the campaign of 1916, a president was elected without receiving a single electoral vote from either of the eastern states. The balance of power has shifted to the west and south, if not really to Pacific coast, which has grown faster than any other section of the country.—Montgomery Journal.

ADVERTISING AN INVESTMENT.

Senator Hitchcock gave the United States senate a lecture on the business methods that are controlling in the placing of newspaper advertising that bears repeating. Unlike the defamers of the press in the senate, Mr. Hitchcock has a knowledge of the subject of the matter that was under discussion as the owner of the Omaha World-Herald.

"If there is one thing fairly established in the newspaper world today," said Hitchcock, "it is that advertising is placed upon the strictest business principles, and there is not an advertiser of importance who does not buy his publicity at the cheapest price he can."

"He does not spend it if he can avoid it. Of the millions of dollars invested every year in the newspapers of New York City, for instance, practically every dollar is put into the newspaper advertising upon the most cold-blooded business principle. There is not an advertiser who goes into a paper by reason of favor. I doubt whether one-hundredth part of 1 per cent of advertising in New York is a matter of favor."

"Merchants buy advertising space as they buy goods, trying to get the greatest publicity for the least amount of money. Any paper in New York, probably every paper there, rejects thousands of dollars worth of advertising a year."

"And they buy that space because the merchants must have the publicity, not that they favor the paper. This talk about advertising being placed by favor is not only an unjustified charge against the newspapers of New York and any other city but it is an idiotic charge."

We do not think that the business methods that are all controlling in the placing of newspaper advertising were ever better stated. It is time we rid the minds of those who have no real knowledge of the subject that advertisers buy advertising for any reason except that it is a good investment that pays well.—Huntsville Telegram.

BISHOP McDOWELL.

The selection of Rev. W. G. McDowell, Jr., of Auburn as Bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal church of Alabama will come in the nature of a surprise, but none the less gratifying to the laity, the church and the general public. This popular young rector, now just rounding 36 did not seek the honor and his reluctance in accepting, indicated a desire to continue in the field where he has done such effective work in behalf of a great educational institution and where he has won the esteem and friendship of so many during his brief but brilliant career. But Dr. McDowell is of that generously devoted type to whom congregations as well as communities turn for leadership when forward strides are to be taken or when tasks for the common weal need diligently to be done.

Dr. McDowell is a native of Virginia and was called to assume charge of special work among the students of Auburn two years ago and later in the forum to bring the pressing needs of this great college to the indifferent attention of the people of the state. While he is not widely known to the general public, the council recognized his marked fitness and availability for directing the affairs of the church, and for relieving Bishop Beckwith of the great burden which he declared a desire and purpose to lay aside. While Dr. McDowell does not come with a record of long and varied experience in church affairs, he is a man of a sympathetic understanding and a broad comprehension of church problems and his assumption of direction and command will mean a new era of progress and quickened hope and buoyant faith for the great body he will serve. The Diocesan council has discharged an important task worthily and well in bestowing this signal honor upon Dr. McDowell. He was the high type of man needed for the work, and he can be relied upon to do it honestly, thoroughly and with all his might.—Selma Times Journal.

In the hush of the early morning while the dew drops are yet sparkling in the rays of a morning sun. When the last chirps of the crickets has given way to the shrill whistle of the Bob White. When the rustle of the corn blades whisper a message of expected plenty, and the countless cotton plants loaded with blossoms of white and red, bespeak the blanket of white which is soon to be spread over the carpet of green. It is an inspiring time. Nature is in her happiest mood. Pictures of the present, the like of which no artist can match, are in profusion, finished by the hand of a master in the art. Visions, born of the faith which spurred to activity when the seed were impressed in the soil, augmented by the labor and planning which has constantly been carried forward since that time, are ripening into a reality, and the wisdom of the undertaking is made apparent. To the lovers of nature pictures, a scene like this is a master picture with a superb setting, tinted as no human hand and brush has ever been able to accomplish.

Alabama is forging to the front as a water melon raising state. A recent survey of the acreage embraced in the Alabama Farm Bureau Watermelon Association revealed the fact that it was 8,000 acres, 1,000 acres more than was expected. The melons raised under the farm bureau plan are to be named and sold under the brand, "Alabama Sweetheart," and are made conspicuous by attractive labels which are pasted on every melon. The Alabama watermelon is one of the very best varieties on the market. One who has ever eaten an Alabama watermelon raised on the sandy lands in the different counties of the state are never satisfied with any other. They are sugary to a marked degree and retain the true flavor.

The genuine article never needed any declaration that it was the genuine. It is always the substitute that needs bolstering up. The claim of just as good is always a guarantee that there is something better. If not, why the argument?

Who knows but that the quivering of the leaves are the spirit of laughter the trees use to express their joy.

The greatest and most majestic poses are made by the rocks and cliffs which are bathed in the sunlight far away from the foot of man and inaccessible thereto. For centuries they have stood guard as sentinels, as they frown down on the ignoble depths below.

The woman who pushed her husband into the river was trying to drown her troubles.

Somewhat embarrassed, he sidled up to the department store glove counter.

"I would like to see Miss Green," he stammered.

The absent-minded salesperson looked up languidly.

"Miss Green is out," she said, "but we have a Miss White, who is very nice, also a Miss Black and Miss Brown, who are very popular this season."

A NEW TWIST.

We now revise the old, old saw, And you all know it's true: A Ford car always finds some work For idle hands to do.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

"Brethren," exclaimed the preacher as he came across a portion of his flock engaged in pursuing the goddess of chance, "don't you all know it's wrong to shoot craps?"

"Yes, pahson," admitted one parishioner sadly, "an' b'lieve me, Ah's payin' fo' mah sins."

One false step isn't always fatal. Where there's a will there's a get-away.

"Diekey," said the mother, "when you divided those five caramels with your sister, did you give her three?"

"No, ma. I thought they wouldn't come out even, so I ate one fore I began to divide."

The trouble with modern prodigal sons is they do not return with any spirit of humility, but want to be met with a brass band and then taken home in a $10,000 car while the crowds cheer.

THE CHAMP.

It's easy to be grouchy. When things aren't coming your way;

But the prize old growl Is the man who will howl When everything's going O. K.

Modern inventions are developing a race of button pushers. It means that all of the physical exercises of the future will be confined to posterity's thumb.

According to a neurologist, during the holiday season heads of families are especially apt to lose their balance. They've only to glance at their check books to realize that.

Little yellow blossoms Growing on the stem. What a lot of them. Boil them in some water, Strain them in a rag; Go to see the grocer With a paper bag. Put in sweets and sours, Place it where it's warm. Keep it there a fortnight, Free from any harm. Soon the bubbles rising, Doesn't it smell nice? Don't imbibe too heavy; Take a fool's advice. Hark! somebody's coming, Get it out of sight. 'Tis a cop, O hurry. Make things look all right. Quiet, folks, he's knocking, open wide the door. Goodness, gracious, beat it! There's a dozen more. Gosh, boys, we're arrested. Ninety days and fine, 'Cause we have been drinking Some dandelion wine.

Father Kelly and Rabbi Cohan were the best of friends. They were guests at a banquet one evening at which ham was served. Father Kelly smilingly whispered to Rabbi Cohan: "Rabbi, when are you going to lay aside that old stuff and eat ham?" The rabbi smiled back and whispered: "At your wedding, Father Kelly."

AND THE OVERHEAD

"Are you sure you have shown me all the principal parts of this car?" asked the fair prospective purchaser. "Yes, madam, all the main ones," returned the dealer.

"Well, then, where is the depreciation?" Tom told me that was one of the biggest things about a car."

BIENNIAL OF THE GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

("The Lookout.")
The biennial of the General Federation in Chautauqua last week was an interesting gathering of prominent women from all sections of the country with many delegates from other countries as well. The events of chief interest to the Southerners present were the Southerners Luncheon on Thursday of the opening week, the meeting of the Southeastern Council, the reception given by the Georgia delegation.

At the Southerners Luncheon 81 women assembled, only the lack of a larger hall for serving preventing an attendance of 300. Every available space at the tables was filled and many friendships were renewed as Southern women gathered from Maine to California, for this delightful event. At the Southeastern Council Mrs. James E. Hays, of Montezuma, president of the Georgia Federation, and the president of the council, presided with Miss Zella Armstrong, secretary. Thirty members of the council, and practically all the delegates from the South were present for the interesting proceedings, including the president of each of the states composing the council, Mrs. Reynolds of Kentucky, Mrs. Clarence Steward of Tennessee, Mrs. James E. Hays of Georgia, Mrs. Henry Lockwood of Virginia, Miss Elizabeth Skinner of Florida, Miss Sidney Cooper of North Carolina, Mrs. Albert Moss of South Carolina, Mrs. Louis A. Neill of Alabama, Mrs. Sidney Cooper of North Carolina extended to the council an invitation to meet in Pinehurst, N. C., in November.

The Georgia reception was also a gathering place for Southern women though the invitation was extended to all delegates. Mrs. James E. Hays, president of the Georgia Federation and candidate for recording secretary of the General Federation, was guest of honor, sharing her honors with Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation.

All the Georgia delegation, which was 56 strong, assisted in receiving, with Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's Club, as official hostess.

Three Southern women were elected to office in the General Federation, Mrs. Florence Floore of Texas was elected treasurer; Mrs. James E. Hays was elected recording secretary and Mrs. William Jennings, of Florida, was re-elected first vice-president.

Among the many prominent Southern women who attended were:

Mrs. S. E. Baily, of Chicago, formerly of Alabama; Mrs. Louis A. Neill, of Alabama; Mrs. Joseph Brevard Jones, of Alabama; Mrs. B. M. Boykin, of Atlanta; Mrs. O. E. Elder, of Atlanta; Mrs. S. E. Jones, of Albany, Ga.; Mrs. Ida Clyde Clark, of New York, formerly of Nashville; Mrs. W. J. Baker, of Memphis.

Mrs. Alan Wallace has returned to Anniston after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Griffin and family left today by auto for a visit to relatives in Canada. They will also visit New York and expect to be gone about seven weeks.

Miss Kate Lile, of Trinity, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Boswell.

Miss Joanna Long, of Pulaski, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sunderland.

Mrs. Betty Guy, of Birmingham, is visiting Mrs. J. Q. Sewell.

Mrs. Mert Morrow and two sons, of Chicago, are the guests of Miss Nona Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Burk and sons, John and Edward, are in Mentone, where they will spend two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter McGwier and children, of Nashville, after a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Angus McGwier have returned to their home.

Miss Loraine King, of Athens, is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. H. Strane.

Mrs. E. H. Strane has returned home after a week-end visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. King, of Athens.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin and family will tour through the country to London, Canada, to attend a family reunion.

Miss Flossie Griffin will spend her vacation in London, Canada.

Mrs. Kimball Jones and daughter have returned from a visit to friends in Gadsden, where they were recipients of social courtesies and to Miss Mary was tendered a "party" attended by a number of the younger belles and beaux.

PERSONALS

Shelby Smith, superintendent of construction work here, is in Nashville today on business.

Clyde McEntire is ill at his home on the Courtland pike.

Lamar Eyster, after spending the week-end at home, returned to Rogersville today.

Hillsboro Will Meet Courtland

Hillsboro and Courtland will meet for the second time this year on the local field Tuesday afternoon. Courtland won the first game on the Fourth. The teams are fairly evenly matched and put up a high grade of baseball on their initial appearance here.

Arrangements are being discussed for a series of games here this week or next between Hartselle and Huntsville. The teams have met once before, in Hartselle, Huntsville winning two out of three. Since that time both squads have been strengthened materially.

Huntsville defeated Chattanooga here Saturday afternoon, 6 to 2, in listless game. The feature was a home run by Shelton, formerly Albany-Decatur first sacker. Shelton hit the ball over the left field fence, the third time this feat has been performed. Nick Carter also is playing with Huntsville now.

BIRTH.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William George Papenburg, a 9-pound boy, William George, Jr., on July 9, 1922.

Word Comes From The Norse.
The Norse word for bay was "vile," and this has survived in such place names as Greenwich. Now, in shallow bays salt would be formed by the evaporation of the water, and so a salt-licking house was known as "vich house."

Don't Risk Neglect

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. An Albany case.

Mrs. Doria Roper, 218 Moulton St., says: "My back became weak and I had such a terrible hurting across my kidneys, I could hardly get about the house. I could scarcely straighten after bending and I became so dizzy, black specks danced before my eyes, almost blinding me. Mornings I was so lame and sore across my back, I could hardly get up. My kidneys didn't act right and I used Doan's Kidney Pills for the trouble. Doan's rid me of all the distress and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Roper had. Foster-Milburn Co., Hrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Monday Regarded As Crucial Day

lence and scores of deputies were mobilized to handle the situation.

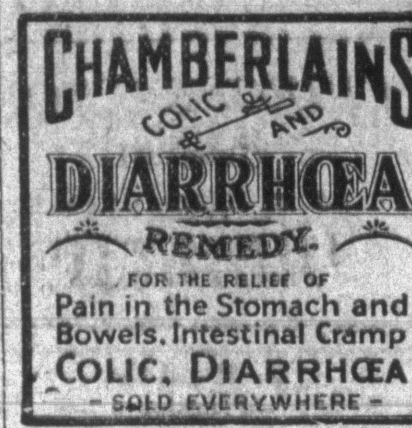

Another critical situation existed at Bloomington, where it was feared that efforts to reopen the Chicago & Alton railway shops might lead to violence. Sheriff Jake Morrison reported that he had been unable to mobilize a force of deputies because citizens refused to protect strike-breakers and declared that unless troops were sent in immediately, he doubted his ability to control the situation.

Acting Governor Fred E. Sterling said troops would not be sent to Bloomington without further inquiry into conditions there.

Union chiefs and members of the United States Railway Labor Board were apparently making no move today toward settlement of the controversy. The railroads continued to claim practically uninterrupted service, but announcement by the train service brotherhoods, who have not joined in the walkout, that they would not move engines upon which repairs have been made by strike-breakers was looked upon as a complication that might hamper the operation of the railroads.

AUBURN NEWS

AUBURN, Ala., July 10.—Announcement is made by Miss Gladys Tappan, assistant state home demonstration agent, that a poultry course in poultry judging will be conducted by Mrs. Florence Forbes, poultry specialist for the Quaker Oats Company, with headquarters at Albany, Ala., for the club girls at their annual state short course at Auburn, July 4-29.

Mrs. Forbes is in charge of the educational department of the South for the Quaker Oats Company, and is also a licensed judge by the American Poultry Association, as well as vice-president of the judges' section of this association. She is also a practical poultry breeder and president of the Alabama Poultry Breeders' Association, and is widely known in a large number of states as an expert poultry judge.

At the short course here Mrs. Forbes will conduct daily classes in judging, using the Rhode Island Red, White Leghorn and Barred Rock breeds.

It is also announced that Arthur S. Chapin, of Cookeville, Tenn., and for some years poultry specialist for the University of Kentucky, will conduct a special course in poultry feeding and management for the farm women during Farmers' Week.

Officials Return From Montgomery

Messrs. J. H. Hill, Frank J. Davis, and Herman O. Troup returned Saturday evening at 7 p. m. after several days spent at Montgomery where the tax collector went to make his annual settlement with the auditor. Mr. Hill reports that he was complimented by the state authorities upon the fine showing made in the collection of the county tax, the authorities stating that his account was one of the best yet received at the auditor's office. These gentlemen made the trip by automobile and say they had some mighty bad shakeups along the way on account of having to detour because of road work progressing in many places.

Revenue Board Considers Projects

The board of revenue of the county is in session today at the court house to look after details coming up on account of the many road building projects now being started in the county. The matter of some minor changes to be made in some of the routes selected, the straightening and making more feasible the right-of-way, are some of the matters which will engage the attention of the board. All the members of the board are present and it is expected that much of their attention will be required in executive session while the road work is under way.

Hartselle News

Rev. Guice, assisted by his co-worker, Mr. Campbell, began a two weeks meeting at the First Methodist church last Sunday morning. The large church was packed at both services during the day. At the morning service the evangelist outlined some of the plans to be followed at the meeting, and urged the membership to give him their support. The night service was a powerful appeal to all to "kill the lion" in the way of the progress of the meeting. The speaker outlined some lions that must be gotten out of the way before there could be a genuine revival. The lion of fault finding was stressed as being one of the most powerful agencies to thwart the proper application of church work extant, and in an impassioned appeal, the preacher urged all to steer clear of this impediment. Honest criticism was invited, but, fault finding was given no place at all in the conduct of a revival. The combined choirs met at the church at 2 p. m. Sunday, and under the guidance of the singer Mr. Campbell is rapidly being gotten into condition for the music of the series. The other churches of the town called in their services for the day and worshipped with the Methodist congregation. The meeting starts out under most favorable circumstances, and great things are being expected of the services. The evangelist is a Mississippian and now resides in Arkansas. The choir leader is director of the Glee club of Hendricks college.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad is having installed two electric warning signals at the crossings at the intersection of Main and Hickory street and the railroad. These crossings are dangerous from the fact that houses line each side of the street leading to the railroad and it is impossible for one to see the train gets right at the crossing. Some wrecks have occurred at one of them and the company is to be commended for the spirit to caution being exhibited.

Miss Cleo Wiley and Miss Woods, of Birmingham, spent Sunday with relatives here. Miss Wiley returned Sunday evening to resume her duties at the Traders National Bank, Birmingham.

Heavy rains visited this section Saturday evening, being one of the heaviest for some time. Everything had been worked over and was in shape for some moisture, and the crop could stand it with more degree of helpfulness than heretofore. Everything is coming on agriculturally speaking in first class condition. Plowing was resumed Monday morning, and everything augurs for a splendid week of diversified work.

An evidence of the wet season can be gained from the fact that the road contractors on the East pike leading out of Hartselle have only been able to put in three weeks of consecutive work since beginning the project. They have only completed a mile and a half of the project. Saturday the rock-crusher was moved nearer toward this end of the work, and the work of building started again this morning. The roadway completed is of fine quality and is a great boon to those who live in the far eastern end of the county. Contractors began work today on the Falkville pike project, it being an extension of the West pike, beginning at McKendree Chapel and will be carried to the Lawrence county line, opening up another section of country which hitherto has not enjoyed the blessings which come from a well constructed highway. When the work is let or the Danville pike and completed, it will be possible to circle the county on good roads passable the year round.

Hartselle baseball fans are jubilant today over a series of three games to be played here this week beginning today, with the Elkhorn Tennessee team. The visitors come highly recommended as a strong aggregation of ball players, and three good games are looked for.

Dr. J. S. Turney continues to improve, and is able to make occasional trips to town.

New sweet potatoes are being enjoyed by the early planters of this table diet, and are of fine quality and large. This is quite early for new potatoes in this section, and represent the very earliest settings. The acreage in this section heretofore very large, will not be near so large this season. Many lost much of the crop raised last season on account of not finding a market which would yield them a profit.

Something like 25 acres of new berry settings have been planted near the town since the crop came off the present season. There is now no longer any doubt but that there will

BANFF, HEADQUARTERS FOR NORTH AMERICA'S ALPINISTS. A MAGNET FOR HIKERS, CAMPERS AND MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS

Banff, the home of the Alpine Club of Canada is the focal point of trail-hitters, campers and mountain climbers during July, August and September. Many of them belong to the Alpine clubs of Canada, America and England, but many others who are not members of any club enjoy the public walking or riding tours to Mt. Assiniboine, the "Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies."

This towering peak nearly 10,000 feet high, will begin to "show" this summer to lovers of the mountains. Assiniboine, Canada's highest peak, is in full view of the city. My trail Mt. Assiniboine is forty-four miles south of Banff, but several rest camps between the two places break the journey and make it easy for even the "faintest foot." There are sure-footed ponies for those who ride, the Alpine Club train carries limited baggage and expert guides go along to safeguard the hikers and campers and cook their food.

Wardworth said, "There's joy in the mountains" and Byron sang the praises of Mount Blanc, "On a throne of rocks, in a robe of clouds, with a domain of snow." Shelley advised everybody to "See the mountain kiss high heaven," and Percy must have been filled with the mountain climber's ambition to keep on upward when he said "Hills meet o'er hills, and Alps on Alps arise." As for the hikers, campers and climbers who daily forth from Banff, Lake Louise and Glacier they may go as far as they wish and climb as high as the real, imported Swiss guides will let them. Adventurous ones with ore vious experience, scale high peaks and others content themselves with side-trips to mountain lakes and passes; camp life under the stars and the revitalizing influence of the high altitudes and the pure mountain air.

The public walking or riding tours between Banff and Mt. Assiniboine start twice a week from Banff during July, August and September and are under the supervision of A. O. Wheeler who is also director of the Alpine Club of Canada. These tours, however, are separate and distinct from the annual camps of the Alpine Club of Canada at Palliser Pass, but a day's journey, of threeabouts, from Assiniboine Camp, Lake Louise and Glacier are also favorite resorts of mountain climbers who may engage at these resorts the services of Swiss guides.

Puzzle in Profit.

At a recent examination the following question was asked: A woman bought 60 oranges at the rate of five for two cents. She sold them at the rate of five for two cents, and obtained a profit. How did she do it? Few could answer. The solution was: She sold 30 oranges at the rate of three for one cent, receiving 10 cents for them. She then sold the remaining 30 oranges at the rate of two for one cent, receiving 15 cents for them. She therefore disbursed 24 cents and recovered her 24 cents, plus one cent profit.

Tree's Winter Plans.

The catalpa tree has a way all its own in getting ready for winter, says the American Forestry Magazine. It places three leaves in a whorl and then at a little distance above there is another whorl so placed that the leaves will cover the spaces between the leaves below. In winter we cannot see these leaves, but the leaf scars show where they were and the buds just above add certainty to their location. "If we find a tree with the buds arranged in this way on the vigorous shoots we may be assured it is one of the two species of catalpa."

Callahan Teaches Lend-a-Hand Class

The "Lend-a-Hand" Bible class of the First Methodist church of Decatur had as its teacher yesterday morning, Attorney W. W. Callahan. The lesson was on the famous dream of an ancient king, and how the prophet Daniel told the corrupt Babylonian king that his and all other earthly kingdoms were to be destroyed. Mr. Callahan presented a carefully drawn picture of the Babylonian court, and he also gave a historical sketch of the times of Daniel. The personal character of Daniel was held up as a splendid example to the men of today, and reverence was made to the courageous stand the young Hebrew made against defiling himself with any portion of the "king's meat."

The scripture text, "And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, and the kingdom shall not be let to other people but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever," was made the basis of the teaching that God's kingdom alone can stand, because it is the only absolutely good kingdom.

Timely Apologies.

Few things do more to lubricate the wheels of existence than the timely and kindly apology, and few things are more tiresome and irritating than the apology that is an intrusion and unnecessary. Well-bred persons are always ready with a more or less perfunctory "I beg your pardon" and they feel not the slightest humiliation in making this sort of apology. It is a remark that may be applied freely to perfect strangers as well as to close friends.

community could not result in any good of the community and we hope that you will not take this step until you are requested by the officials of this community to take it. Respectfully submitted."

The petition was preceded by a letter to Governor Kilby, signed by eight members of the shop crafts' executive committee, denying any trouble and denying also that union men are armed or have been armed since the strike began.

The letter charged that railroad watchmen are armed and declared there would be no violence here, unless it was forced. The letter urged Governor Kilby to instruct local officials to disarm guards.

Telegrams from Governor Kilby to Sheriff May following:

"Hon. J. V. May,
"Sheriff of Morgan County,
"Decatur, Ala.

"I call your attention to the Act of the Legislature approved October 29, 1921, known as the anti-picketing law. I am informed that this act is being openly and wantonly violated in your county. The law makes it a crime for any person or association of persons to use force, threats or intimidation, or other unlawful means to prevent any other persons from engaging in any lawful occupation or business.

"It is a violation of the criminal laws of this State for any person, without a just cause or legal excuse, willfully or wantonly to do any act with intent or reason to believe that such act will injure, interfere with, hinder, delay or obstruct any lawful business in which persons are employed for wages.

"Any person who pickets the property of another is guilty of a crime and should be arrested, convicted and punished. Strikers or union men have no more right to disregard or violate this statute than any other statute.

"It is your duty as sheriff to enforce this statute by arresting those who violate or refuse to observe it as it is any other statute. You have the authority and power, and it is your duty, as well as mine, to see that the laws of the state are enforced. You will, therefore, appoint and deputize as many deputy sheriffs of Morgan County as is necessary to preserve the peace and to protect the property of citizens of Morgan County.

"Appoint men who will enforce the law, even though they be the owners or agents of the property sought to be destroyed or unlawfully interfered with by the strikers or mobs.

(Signed) "THOMAS E. KILBY,
"Governor."

The telegram to Solicitor Almon is as follows:

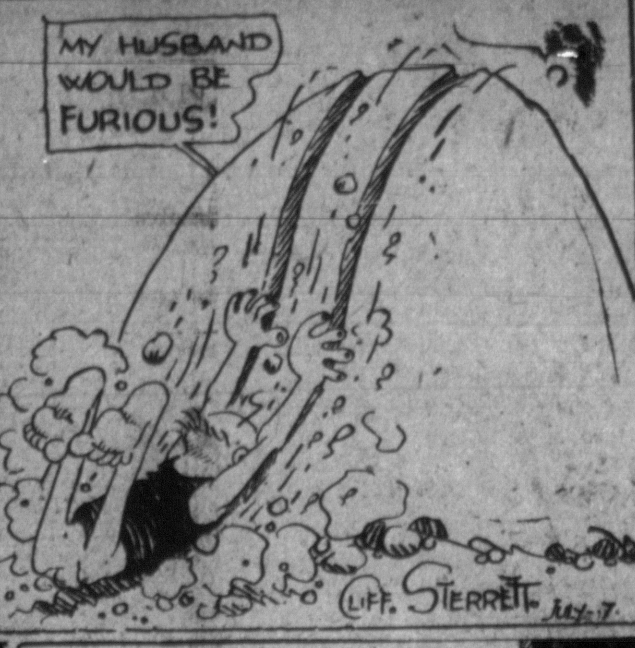

"Hon. D. C. Almon,
"Solicitor, Eighth Judicial Circuit,
"Albany, Ala.

"I am informed that criminal laws of this state are being openly and notoriously violated in your county by union labor men who are on strike in the shops of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company at Albany. I am informed that the Act of the Legislature approved October 29, 1921, Acts 1921, pages 31 to 33, is being openly violated by these strikers; that they are using unlawful means to prevent other persons from working in the shops of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and that they are doing other unlawful acts denounced by this statute with intent to hinder and obstruct the lawful business of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and that they are doing other acts which the statute denounces as crime, under the laws of this State.

"I have wired the sheriff to appoint sufficient deputies to preserve the peace and to protect the lives and liberties of the people of Morgan County from the unlawful and criminal acts of these strikers. I have instructed him to appoint men who will enforce the law.

"I request that you use all of your power and authority as a citizen and an officer to see that the laws are enforced and that the peace of the community is preserved, and that the men who desire to work are not pre-

Prof. J. C. Bullington and family, of New Hope, Ala., came over for the Fourth with friends and relatives in the West part of the county.

No Proof of Race of Giants.
The myth of a race of giants has its counterpart in those other creatures of the imagination, the ancient pygmies. These fabled people, who were so small that a stalk of grain was a tree to them, which they chopped down with tiny hatchets and broomsticks, were said to inhabit Ethiopia. They were always at war with the cranes, but lived on such excellent terms with the partridges that they were able to harness them into their carriages. They lived at first, according to the fable, in Thrace, but were driven out of Europe by the cranes and took refuge in Ethiopia.

The Secret.
To be successful all we have to do is to make as much of a business of our own business as we do of the things that are none of our business.—Boston Transcript.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT A Real Mother

Copyright, 1922, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

DEAR ME, what a sensation Mother made!

Nothing particularly astonishing about Mother, either, when you get right down to it. But the other day Mother went down town to a luncheon at a big hotel and she wore a gray dress, rather longish, and a gray scarf, nice and soft and filmy, that the girls made for her, out of batik, and she had her white hair—really white, and not a bit of dye about it, and you should have seen the waiters!

They stood paralyzed—at first—and then they began to swarm. One put a bouquet of roses at her table and one bowed almost to the ground and one apologized for the way the little table was set.

And the women at the next table whispered and smiled, poor things—I think Mother was a little sorry for them.

They both looked so worried and so sort of tired. I think they have a hard time trying to look young. It must be discouraging—what with the wrinkles, that will appear now and then—no matter what the advertisements say—and what with the way the dye acts, always fading and turning green, and looking purple in the sunshine, and then—after they have had all the work and all the worry—the foolish men fall in love with some little sixteen-year-old, after all.

Somewhat, I never can't quite blame the men, for sixteen-year-olds are so fresh and pretty, and so slim and so girlish, and so full of high spirits and giggles. If Aunt Susan and Cousin Kate will persist in imitating Sweet Sixteen, how can you blame Father and Uncle Thomas for preferring the originals?

The men had a beautiful time with Mother. She knew some of them and they all stopped and spoke to her and seemed glad to see her. And those who didn't know her looked at her kindly—and one or two set faces relaxed and grim mouths smiled and hard eyes grew kindly.

I wonder if they weren't all thinking of their own mothers, back home somewhere, when they were little and foolish and had never heard of jazz or pep in all their lives.

What a relief it must be for Mother's sons and Mother's daughters to have a mother who looks like a mother and is proud of it!

As for Mother's husband, well he is a perfect fool about Mother anyway—always was and always will be.

He says it rests him just to look at her. I am glad I saw Mother in the dining-room with all the "youthful" middle-aged women and all the giddy old women. Somehow, she made me think of cookies and gingerbread and a cool well and the shadow of the leaves dancing on the ground and the faint chime of bells ringing in some green and fragrant valley.
